

Success in Soccer

Two things are important to me when I strive for success in soccer: Hard work and Meaning and Purpose. Hard work helps people get a return because when you spend a lot of time on one subject, you'll be good at it and gain lots of talent.

When you have a lot of passion for something it is called Enthusiasm. Enthusiasm can make you work hard for it. Soccer is my favorite sport, so I don't want to miss any practices or games even if it is raining hard. Sometimes if I needed to do my homework and participate in a soccer game or practice, I would go to the soccer game first and come back to finish the homework even if I worked late.

Regarding the secret of meaning and purpose, it reminds me of how I was selected as the goalkeeper of the travel team. During soccer practice, I always do very well and stop the ball many times, and have lots of crazy saves! I also purposely trained myself to dive to the ball when I was in recess even though some of my classmates didn't understand, but I believe the practice is meaningful to me.

Every successful person has their own secrets of greatness. But I believe enthusiasm and hard work are the keys to success.
